Forty-five invalid soldiers were burned to death in the military hospital. Several shocks were felt today." The above dispatch is not dated.

U. S. CONSULATE IS DESTROYED

The Consul's Clerk Cables That the Papers Are Safe.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 16.—The following cablegram was received at the State Department this afternoon: "Jamaica, Jan. 16th, 3:31 P. M. 'Secretary of State, Washington, D. C.: 'Terrible earthquake, followed by fire. Kingston destroyed. Hundreds of lives lost. Food badly wanted. Consulate probably destroyed. Fireproof safe. (Signed) 'AMERICAN CONSULATE.' The last sentence of the dispatch is supposed to have referred to the consulate papers."

MT. ETNA SHOWS SIGNS OF ERUPTION

Increased Activity During the Kingston Earthquake.

CATANIA, SICILY, January 16.—The earthquake at Kingston, Jamaica, was coincident with increased activity of Mt. Etna and a slight earthquake in the Madonian Mountains. Professor Rizzo, the director of the Mt. Etna Observatory, says that either the fire openings inside the crater, which were discovered in 1893, have increased in size, or that eruptions are occurring inside the volcano, as from the outside nothing but smoke and a reduction of the cone can be seen. The volcano is throwing out a considerable quantity of ashes, and subterranean detonations are heard. The present phenomena are similar to those in 1892, when one of the most severe eruptions occurred.

who abolished the Indiana post-office and closed with Booker Washington. All that he has done for the negro, all the evidences of friendship he has shown in the past, have been utterly forgotten simply because he has not shown that sympathy with the criminal negro which pervades the negro population of this country from one end of it to the other.

Foraker and the South.

He then turned his attention to Senator Foraker, saying: "I can remember with what frantic energy he used to wave the bloody shirt—a shirt dyed in the crimson current of his own rhetoric. I remember how he used to go rushing over the land, a bifurcated, porphyritic volcano in perennial eruption, belching fire and smoke and melted lava from his agonized and tumultuous bowels. I can remember how in public speeches he exhorted the gall of his bitterness upon the South until I came to think that the Senator wished all the white people of the South—men, women, children, and babes at the breast—had but a single neck, that he might sever it at a blow. 'I would not have to go back forty years to make any inquiry into the Senator's pedigree to prove to me that the Senator from Ohio is really as rabid and as bitter as he seems. I tell them no—his ferocity is purely oratorical; it is simply the lightning force of a tyrannical habit which continues to have some power over the tongue long after it has been expelled from the heart.'"

All Bark; No Bite.

"But I will not do the Senator such gross injustice as to judge his heart by the testimony of his own mouth; and when my Southern friends ask me if the Senator from Ohio is really as rabid and as bitter as he seems, I tell them no—his ferocity is purely oratorical; it is simply the lightning force of a tyrannical habit which continues to have some power over the tongue long after it has been expelled from the heart." Paying his compliments to Senator Tillman, Mr. Cargill said: "The Senator's speech was powerful; it was picturesque; it was full of good and striking points; but it seemed to me that his premises were upon one side of the earth and his conclusions upon the other, with no bridge between."

To Unhorse Roosevelt.

Mr. Carmack then gave what he regarded as the real purpose of the agitation—an attempt to unhorse Mr. Roosevelt as the Republican leader. Declaring this to be "the beginning of the fight to break the power of the only leader of the Republican party who ever arrayed himself against the enemies of the people," he said: "It is an effort to put the party back into its old position, to renew its covenant with the plunderers and oppressors."

sors of the American people," and he declared it would succeed. "All the resources of the gentleman in the White House cannot stay the inevitable. He has attempted the impossible task of recreating the Republican party. 'You may whitewash the Ethiopian and unspot the leopard, but you cannot make the one a Caucasian or the other a lamb. 'There is a force as persistent and compelling as the law of gravitation that will pull the Republican party back to the position which, by main strength and awkwardness, the President has lifted it up.'"

He declared that the sentiment which the President had helped to arouse against plutocracy will bring millions of dollars to the ranks of the Democratic party, and said that "if President Roosevelt himself chooses to come he will find there ample opportunity to exercise an influence for the welfare of the people, and also to show respect for the law and the Constitution."

Let the Fun Go On.

Senator Stone said he was aware that there was a disposition among Democratic members of the Senate to vote against the resolutions. He at first was in sympathy with that, but, he added, there was a family feud among Republicans involved, and he was now no longer in sympathy with that. He added, there was a family feud among Republicans involved, and he was now no longer in sympathy with that. He added, there was a family feud among Republicans involved, and he was now no longer in sympathy with that.

Senator Foraker said that if by legislation this battle should be restored, as he heard it hinted, he would not be the duty of the President to dismiss it instantly if he still held to his present opinion as to its guilt. He confined his discussion of the subject to the question of the President's authority, which he maintained was ample.

Senator Foraker said he was not aware there were to be any other speeches on the resolution, and he desired to close the debate. By his resolution, simply an investigation of the facts was to be made. The scope of his resolution was not such as to bring into the investigation the question of the President's power. However, he said, he was not particular about it. He would accept any language. He was more concerned about securing an opportunity of the men charged with crime to be heard. Mr. Foraker disclaimed the fact that he had attacked the President. On the contrary, he said, he had defended him. He had said he believed the President had been imposed upon in the evidence upon which he had based his action. Mr. Foraker yielded to the suggestion of Senator Spooner that he proceed to-morrow, and the Senate adjourned.

SOUTH CAROLINA DISPENSARY TO BE INVESTIGATED AGAIN

COLUMBIA, S. C., January 15.—The General Assembly to-day passed a resolution providing for another investigation of the affairs of the State Dispensary. The committee, which is composed of three members of the House and two from the Senate, is expected to make its report within ten days. The appointment of this new committee is the result of a statement by Dispensary Commissioner W. O. Tatum, who alleges that the present board of directors has overstocked the dispensary with unsalable goods against his advice.

CINCINNATI, O., January 16.—At 8 o'clock to-night the Ohio River registered fifty-four feet and was rising at the rate of an inch an hour. The water reached the Grand Central station to-night, and all trains had to leave from the Eighth Street station.

PRES. FINLEY PRESENTS FACTS

Says the Southern Railway Company is Doing All It Can for the Public.

PURCHASE OF EQUIPMENT

All Material is Higher, and the Price of Labor is Almost Prohibitive.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 16.—President W. W. Finley, of the Southern Railway, has issued a statement calling attention to the fact that his company is doing all in its power to furnish up-to-date transportation to the public. He says, in part:

As soon as the new company came into existence, the management adopted a policy of betterment and improvement, and something of what it has done to prepare for the traffic of the South will appear from the following statement: It has spent in new, approved and heavier rail.....$10,850,000

In double track, including grades and changing alignment.....6,942,621
In new steel bridges for heavier power.....2,575,540
In branches and spur to industries.....2,363,258
In side, passing, and special tracks.....3,148,586
In shops, tools and machinery.....2,011,148
In additions and improvements to yards, real estate, road-way and structures and other improvements and additions.....$2,229,665

Or a total of.....$36,134,013
It has spent or contracted to spend—
For new equipment.....$49,322,569
For joint terminals completed (its proportion).....$468,183
For terminals.....$23,470
For double tracking.....6,744,799

Making a total of work done and contracted for to prepare to handle the traffic.....$96,482,945
It has increased its rolling stock as follows: Locomotives, from 325 to (contracted and purchased) 1,544; freight train cars, from 13,524 to (received and contracted for) 68,491; passenger train cars, from 487 to (received and contracted for) 1,068.

This does not indicate fully the increase made to its equipment by the company, because the increased power of the locomotives, and the increased tonnage capacity of the cars, have added much more to the equipment capacity of the company than the number of added units would represent. For example, the average capacity of the freight cars has increased 23.38 per cent.

A fair consideration of these figures will demonstrate the fact that the management of the Southern Railway has not been unmindful of its obligation to increase its facilities in anticipation of the increase in traffic.

An immense increase in all expenses, without any increase in rates—in fact, with the proposition almost universally made to decrease rates by legislative action.

The large increase in expenses may be illustrated as follows: Since 1895 bridge timber has increased from $9.36 to $20.52 per thousand feet.

Cross ties from 28 cents to 34.5 cents per rail. Steel rails from $17.75 per ton to $28.00 per ton.

Since 1895 prices of equipment have increased as follows: Locomotives from $11,292 to from $16,000 to $20,000. Passenger coaches from $6,215 to $9,463. Freight cars from $500 to $755.09.

Coal cars from $985.00 to $1,135. The cost of labor has increased per mile of road from $1,621.67 in 1895 to $2,574.71 in 1906; and from $2,574.71 per mile of road in 1905 to $2,874.71 in 1906.

Taxes of the company per mile of road have, since 1895, increased 12 per cent. This large increase of expense must be added the excessive verdicts of juries in personal injury cases.

In addition to this there is a marked tendency on the part of many of the States to regard any failure of service as willful, and to impose upon the carrier a heavy penalty therefor.

TUSKEGEE SCHOOL.

Books and Accounts to Be Examined by Governor of Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., January 16.—In the House to-day a resolution was presented, authorizing the Governor to examine the books and accounts of the Tuskegee Normal School for the Deaf and Blind, and to report to the State. This school receives a small appropriation from the State, but is supported by contributions from philanthropists of the North.

DISCUSS SUCCESSOR TO DR. M'BRYDE

Board of Visitors of V. P. I. Will Have Up Important Matters To-Morrow.

BLACKSBURG, VA., January 16.—The executive committee of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute met here to-day. Messrs. Smith, Robertson, Brown and Watkins and President McBryde were present. Business of a purely routine character was transacted, a number of reports from the different departments being presented and audited.

Dr. J. L. Phillips, State etomologist, was given permission to employ an assistant in his work, and was also granted an appropriation for an exhibit in his department at the Jamestown Exposition.

A full meeting of the board of visitors will be held here to-morrow, when the question of a successor to Dr. McBryde will be taken up.

MURDER COMMITTED IN NATIONAL MUSEUM

Artist Fires Three Bullets Into Body of Lithographer.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 16.—E. F. Van Iteson was shot and killed at the National Museum to-day by Otto Sellhorst, of Philadelphia. Van Iteson was a lithographer, temporarily employed at the museum. The victim was shot three times by Sellhorst with a repeating rifle. Sellhorst was arrested. There were no eyewitnesses to the shooting. It is understood that the affray was the result of family troubles. The police say that Sellhorst lives in Philadelphia, and came to this city yesterday.

Murder an Artist.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 16.—Otto Sellhorst, who is said to have shot and killed E. F. Van Iteson, is an artist, and lived with his mother, brother and sister at No. 227 Poplar Street, this city. He left for Washington to-day, and some of his family state that they never heard him mention the name of Van Iteson. Last year he was in a sanitarium near Eaton, Pa., suffering from nervousness, but since October had apparently been in good health.

Polk Miller to Entertain.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Costs Nothing To Try.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you use the better it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels, and disinfects the mouth and throat from the cause of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. They are composed of the finest quality of charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and better blood; and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

Send your name and address to-day for a free trial package and see for yourself the value of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. P. A. Stuart Co., 50 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

NOTED PEOPLE AT PARISH WEDDING

Nuptials of Virginia Lawyer and the Accomplished Miss Gray Morehead Brilliant Affair.

BISHOP RANDOLF CELEBRANT

Distinguished Virginia Clergyman Performs Ceremony. Three Hundred at Dinner.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SPRAY, N. C., January 16.—In the presence of one of the most distinguished gatherings that ever assembled either in North Carolina or Virginia on a similar occasion, Miss Emma Gray Morehead, youngest daughter of Major and Mrs. Jas. Turner Morehead, of New York, was united in marriage to-night to Mr. Robert Louis Parrish, of Covington, Va., at the nuptial country home of the bride, in-law of the bride, Hon. B. Frank Mebane, of this place. Right Rev. Bishop A. M. Randolph, of the southern diocese, officiated at the ceremony, which was performed in the north parlor of the home of Mr. Mebane.

The entire interior of the house downstairs was decorated beautifully with evergreens, together with potted plants and hothouse flowers.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the bride party entered the north parlor in the following order: Ribbon-bearers—Messrs. T. M. M. K. and Nelson Harris and Harris Nelson, all of Danville, Va., nephews of the bride.

The groom and his sister, Miss Mary N. C. Robert Tunstall, of Norfolk, Va.; J. R. Perky, of Covington, Va.; J. R. Fraeker, of Covington, Va.; S. W. Venable, of Covington, Va.; S. W. Skelton, Richmond; C. R. Meliver, of Spray; P. B. McPherson, of St. Louis.

Dames of Honor—Mesdames W. T. Harris, of Danville, and B. Frank Mebane, of Spray.

Governor Glenn Attends.

Then came the bride, accompanied by her father, who was met at the altar by the groom and his sister, Miss Mary N. C. Robert Tunstall, of Norfolk, Va.; J. R. Perky, of Covington, Va.; J. R. Fraeker, of Covington, Va.; S. W. Venable, of Covington, Va.; S. W. Skelton, Richmond; C. R. Meliver, of Spray; P. B. McPherson, of St. Louis.

The ceremony was performed according to the ritual of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Following the wedding, a reception was tendered and an old-fashioned North Carolina supper served. Three hundred guests were present.

A special train came out from Danville to bring a party of guests. Among them was Governor R. B. Glenn, of North Carolina.

The bride is one of the most popular and charming young ladies of the two States, being known in the society of both, as well as at New York City.

Mr. Parrish is a prominent lawyer of Virginia, and is also a counsel of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway.

They leave to-night for an extended Southern tour.

Cloe—Woodward.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LOUISA, VA., January 16.—One of the most beautiful weddings that has taken place in Louisa, occurred this evening, when Miss Elvira, Blanche Woodward, became the bride of Mr. William Burruss Cloe, of Stafford County, but now a resident of Charlottesville, Va.

The Methodist Church looked like fairy land, when at 8 P. M. the bridal party, consisting of the bride, bridesmaids and groomsmen. Bridesmaids—Miss Eugene Jackson, of Richmond; Miss Daisy Wright, of Belle Cross Roads; Miss Etta Saunders, of Pointe's Store, and Miss Vera Boyd, of Bibbs's Store. Groomsmen—Messrs. Novell Woodward, William Saunders and Marion Parrish, all of Richmond; Mr. Jack Frost, of Guilford; and Mr. Jack Frost, of Guilford.

Then came the maid of honor, Miss Annie Woodward, a sister of the bride, followed by the ring-bearer, little Rosa Woodward, another sister of the bride. They left on the north-bound morning train for an extended bridal tour.

Among those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Boyd, of Bibbs's Store; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. "Bells"; Miss Rosalind Jennings, of Richmond; Mrs. George Woodward, of the Green Springs; Mr. D. Deane, of Green county; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Daniel, of Louisa; Mrs. S. O. Sigs, of Staunton, and others.

Moon—May.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHATHAM, VA., January 16.—Miss Myrtle May and Mr. James Moon were married at the home of the bride, Rev. Guyer, of the Methodist Church, of this place officiating. The wedding was solemnized at 6 A. M., and was witnessed by a large number of friends and a few intimate friends.

The bride is the only daughter of J. A. May. She is a blonde of rare beauty and very popular in her community. She is a traveling salesman for J. E. Gannaway & Co., of Lynchburg, by whom she is held in high esteem.

They left on the north-bound morning train for an extended bridal tour.

Lukin—Thornton.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PAMELIN, CITY, VA., January 16.—Dr. Frank Harwood Lukin, who has been practicing medicine here for several years, and Miss Allie Thornton, of this place, daughter of William D. Thornton, deceased, for a long time a prominent merchant here, were quietly married at the home of the bride at 8:30 A. M. by the bride's pastor, Rev. A. L. Casson, of the Methodist Church.

Omega Oil

For Rheumatism A good doctor says that while people are using three glasses of water at night and two or three more glasses in the morning. The Oil goes in through the pores, destroys the acids which cause Rheumatism, and the blood carries the destroyed acid to the kidneys, where it is filtered out. By drinking plenty of water, the kidneys are well washed out, and in this manner the rheumatic poisons are removed from the system. You have probably noted that in all sickness the simplest treatments do the most good. Nothing is simpler than drinking pure water, and rubbing the body and muscles, and tendons, and joints with Omega Oil.

JOHN HARRIS GETS TWO YEARS IN PRISON

Man Who Killed Samuel Haskins in Churchyard Sentenced.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SUFFOLK, VA., January 16.—For the murder of Sam Haskins, several weeks ago, John Harris was sentenced to-day in Nansemond Circuit Court to two years in the State prison. There were extenuating circumstances. Haskins, who had been ordered to keep away from Harris's premises, because of his attentions to his wife, was located there late at night, making sound signals on the weather-board, believing Harris to be away. Haskins fled, but later Harris overtook him in a churchyard near Crittenden, and stabbed him to death with a butcher knife.

Mr. H. K. Woodin, soliciting agent, City Line, is in Newport News on business, and will not return for several days.
